The 'web report' then displays and scrolling to the end of the web report you will see the Care Plan option.

- This is a row of empty text boxes with headings.
- The 'web report' provides the basis for a conversation with a young person about things that are going both well and not so well, and the changes that are important to the young person. The structure of the young person's Care Plan helps guide this conversation. As a worker you can clarify those things that are most important to the young person to change and improve, clarify the benefits and how these can be achieved.

The Care Plan option for completion can be accessed for up to 30 days after the self-assessment questionnaire has been completed.

To access the functionality simply log in as a young person and select the REPORT option. Once saved a Care Plan can be added to during the 30 day period.

By recording the conversation with the young person using the Care Plan functionality, additional information is provided to the Care Plan meeting. The young person's priorities for improvement have been identified and recorded.

As one Senior Consultant Psychologist has commented

The Viewpoint process provided a space where it was acceptable to encourage discussion about positive and not so positive aspects of life for the children.

The process seemed to remove any awkwardness about getting into the space where discussions went down these paths. It is as if the children had permission to talk in detail about themselves. And they did. Information came out that was 'new information'.

The legitimacy to the discussion came from both the interviewer and child being involved in a collaborative process, centred around the responses to the questions which made it easier for the child to focus on the sensitive topics with less awkwardness or defensiveness.'
